Dear Auditioning Actors and Parents:

This letter will explain some of the history, auditioning and casting policies and rules of the Children's Theatre of Winnetka.

Children's Theatre of Winnetka was founded at the Winnetka Community House in 1974, with the intent to provide an overall theater experience for the children of New Trier Township. Auditions are open to all New Trier Township children in grades 4-8. Our goals remain the same: 1) we teach all aspects of theater arts - producing, directing, acting, singing, dancing, lighting, sound, stage management, crewmanship, props, make-up, special effects, ushering and other disciplines which are needed to create a show; 2) we produce two shows a year that are aimed at appealing to young audiences; and 3) we work to maintain a high standard of professionalism. Since 1974, our shows have ranged from fairy tales to modern classics to Broadway musicals. Over the years our popularity has grown - both among the children who wish to be in our casts and on our crews and among the adults who seek to lend us their talents. Our Board is an all-volunteer, working board.

Auditions and callbacks are CLOSED which means all non-auditioning children and parents may not watch auditions. We have instituted this policy to provide your child with the privacy needed to be comfortable and the opportunity to be their creative best. Please feel free to wait for your child in the lobby area of the Community House or return home until your child calls for pick up when their audition is completed. Pay phones are available throughout the Community House. Thank you for your cooperation in this matter.

The casting committee consists of the directors of the production, plus any other production staff that the directors wish to include. Normally, the choreographer and the vocal coach are included. At least one casting committee member must be a Board member. Casting is by consensus, with the Director having the final say in case there is no consensus. When there are co-directors, consensus must be reached.

With the increased popularity of our productions, the number of children auditioning has risen enormously. It has been necessary for the Board to constantly review casting policies and to establish a casting philosophy. Rules of thumb have been established over the years, some of which are Board policy and some of which are common sense, to aid casting committees in cases where there are a great many talented children available.

BOARD POLICY:

1. The philosophy of the Children's Theatre is that we will cast the most talented child for each role.
2. Board members' children and children of non-board members who are working on the production will be called back as a matter of courtesy.
3. The Director(s) must have the freedom to choose those children that they deem most fit to play all acting roles.
4. When, and only when, talent is equal, a Board member's child will be chosen over a non-Board member's child.
5. All members of a casting committee must keep these policies in mind while casting.

COMMON SENSE:

1. The choreographer is the best judge of dancers.
2. The vocal coach is the best judge of singers.
3. The Director(s) is the best judge of actors.
4. A grading system will be used to break ties.

All children who try out are graded on acting, singing and dancing. In each case, grading is subjective. There is no scientific way to grade these talents. Directors frequently have pre-conceived ideas of how they want the characters to look, act and sound; therefore, it is entirely possible that a child with exceptional talent might be turned away because he or she does not fit the Director's concept. Frequently, children who are not cast in one production will win a part in the next one based upon the different needs of that show.

An important factor that enters into casting is a child's size. Every show has different size requirements and the Directors select their leading characters first and build their cast around them to create a believable cast. For example, a boy might be "born to play" the part of the father, but if he is no taller than the actor selected to play his son, he will not work out as that character. The audience would not believe him in the part. By the same token, Annie cannot be taller than Daddy Warbucks, and so on. Sometimes a child cannot be cast because of size, despite enormous talent.

Our crew system is designed to allow those children who are not cast and those who are interested in developing backstage skills to be involved in its actual production. It would be very easy to use adults as crew, but we have chosen to use children for all crews and to teach backstage disciplines as well as onstage ones. We are proud of our crew system. We always have some children who do not wish to act but only to do crew and we make every attempt to give them their first choice of crews. Our goal in all productions is to give crewmembers as much responsibility as possible.

CTW is a non-profit, volunteer organization. Our producers, directors, vocal coaches, choreographers, stage managers, etc. all donate their time for the love of Children's Theatre. We pay only our musicians, adult sound crew and professional lighting crew.

Scholarships are available for the production fee. Call Jack Austin at 312.476.6902. All inquiries and scholarships are kept confidential.

We request that parents of cast members participate in some capacity during the show. There are a variety of opportunities that will fit both your interests and time constraints. A parent meeting will be held after casting is complete to describe these opportunities to you.

Thank you for taking the time to read this and thank you for your children!

December 2009

Rules for participation in "Annie Get Your Gun":

1. All children will treat each other with respect and kindness. There will be no harassing or teasing of other children or adults.
2. All cast members will arrive on time for rehearsals. If ill, the parent must call Barbara Weldon at (847) 446-7971 before 3:00 weekdays, 7:30 AM Saturdays.
3. Pre-arranged absences such as family travel or special events must be approved by Barbara Weldon immediately after the Parent Meeting. No pre-arranged absences are allowed after Spring Break.
4. Children must obey the adults in charge of the show or working on the show and show respect for all adults that they come in contact with. The adults are all volunteers who do this for the love of children and the theater.
5. Parents should pick up children promptly after rehearsals. Once a rehearsal is over, children are no longer a responsibility of CTW.

For insurance purposes, we are required to have a signed parental permission release before your child can participate in a CTW Production at the Winnetka Community House. These forms will be handed out at the Parents Meeting.

Additionally, your child, as a cast or crew member of "Annie Get Your Gun", must agree to abide by the rules shown above, and understand that if he or she breaks the rules, he or she may be expelled from either the cast or crew.
